

My fact family lives here:

Directions for Use

(1) Write the two numbers to be added in the lower two boxes.

(2) Write the sum in the top box.

(3) Use these three numbers to write four true math sentences in the lower panel.

Tip: Print fact house on colored paper and laminate. After laminating, use a permanent marker to fill in the top three boxes. Allow children to build fact families with number tiles or write them in with dry erase marker. For added practice, students can check their work with counting chips or other manipulatives.

After students have mastered the fact family, simply use alcohol to clean off the numbers at the top, write new numbers, and put this learning center back into circulation.
